

SUMMER SCHOOL ON ENERGY SECURITY

Telc, Czech Republic, August 3 – 10, 2013

The Department of International Relations and European Studies, Faculty of Social Studies, Masaryk University together with our partners is happy to announce the second year of a prestigious summer school on energy security. The summer school will take place in the UNESCO World Heritage City of Telc and will be dealing with the issue of differences between Atlantic and Continental Approaches to Energy Security.

The summer school will be held from August 3 to August 10 and will host various foreign and Czech energy security experts. Among the lecturers are John P. Banks (The Brookings Institution, USA), Vaclav Bartuska, (Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Czech Republic), Dana Drabova (Chairwoman, State Nuclear Safety Authority of the Czech Republic), Arunas Molis (NATO Energy Security Centre of Excellence, Lithuania), Silvia Haufe (German Transmission System Operator 50Hertz Transmission GmbH) and many others.

The summer school will last six full working days, including a day-long field trip to the Temelin Nuclear Power Station. Each day will be dealing with specific topic and will consist of several sessions comparing the management of energy security from the U.S. and European perspective.

Students can earn 4 ECTS credits if all the requirements are fulfilled.

For more information, please visit <http://www.summer-school.cz/> or email us at SummerSchoolMU@gmail.com